OPEN FIGHT AGAINST LA FOLLETTE DAWES ASSAILS INDEPENDENT IN HIS OWN STATE TEST U. S. DEFENSE MACHINERY CALL TO ARMS BY WAR DEPT. ISSUED TODAY

Attacks Progressive Candidate as "The Master Demagogue" — Republican Leaders Will Carry On Fight.

(By The Associated Press.)
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 12.—Republican organization leaders in Wisconsin took steps today to carry on the fight launched against La Follette's independent candidacy last night by Charles E. Dawes, Republican vice presidential nominee, in an address in the Milwaukee auditorium.

Plans for the contest in Senator La Follette's progressive home state were discussed informally between local party leaders and William M. Butler, Republican national chairman, after last night's meeting which was attended by an audience that overflowed the auditorium. The hall was a seating capacity of 9,000.

Republican national committee officials who accompanied Mr. Dawes here were afforded obvious indications of the strong political feeling that exists this year in Wisconsin. Cheers for Senator La Follette were heard frequently before the meeting got underway and these cheers grew somewhat more intense when Mr. Dawes in his opening sentence mentioned the name of the Wisconsin senator.

The atmosphere changed to one of gloom when the feeling existing in the state, several of those in the audience in many cases sat forward in their seats—all feeling that there might be an open demonstration of these diverse opinions.

Mr. Dawes proceeded with his analysis of the attitude of La Follette-Wheeler ticket toward constitutional questions, particularly the independent platform's declaration for congressional veto of all executive orders. Those in charge of the meeting said they notice a lessening of the strain. Where were few interruptions from unsympathetic members of the audience there-after except a few pointed in a section near the back of the hall got up and walked noisily out. The Republican organization of officials estimate the number of those who left at about 100 and that they were taken immediately by an equal number from among the crowd waiting outside.

Mr. Dawes devoted his entire address to a discussion of the La Follette movement which he declared represented "the quintessence of demagoguism, animated by the vicious political foundation of the 'master demagogue'."

He attacked Senator La Follette as "the master demagogue," described the senator's Labor Day address as an affront to the common sense of the average individual and declared the success of the La Follette doctrine of congressional veto of supreme court decisions would "mean that the constitution be stripped of authority, which would be disastrous to the government and to the playing of changing political parties with demagogues in the saddle."

OF "DOWN WITH SHAME"

(By The Associated Press.)
MOSCOW, Sept. 12.—Moscow experienced a sensation yesterday when a number of young athletes of both sexes appeared almost nude in the streets, the sole covering being diminutive aprons and red ribbons over the shoulders bearing the inscription "Down with shame!"

The crowds on the streets were much incensed and in some cases the athletes were forced to seek the protection of the police. The sporting societies have been warned by the authorities that repetition of the incident will subject the offenders to imprisonment.

Speaker Charged With
Using Insulting Language
In Address

(By The Associated Press.)
WINCHESTER, Va., Sept. 12.—Dr. M. C. Altenburg of Washington, who was given a hearing Monday morning before Magistrate A. J. Tavenner, of Federal court, on a charge of using false, insulting and scandalous language in the course of a public address last Tuesday night at Stephens City, near here. He was arrested on warrants sworn out by Sheriff Luther Barnett and Magistrate Robert Worsley, of the Winchester police court. Altenburg also has been summoned to appear before the county grand jury on October 6.

According to Fannett's complaint, Altenburg, while the officers alleged, was a Ku Klux Klan organizer, told the gathering at Stephens City that he was friendly with bootleggers and asserted that a way would be found to oust him from office before the expiration of his term. He also charged Worsley declared Altenburg criticized his judicial actions.

Dr. Altenburg today denied he criticized the officers in the manner they complained of, but admitted he told his audience that he thought Frederick county was the worst governed county, except Warren, in which he had ever worked.

Training School
Plans Will Be Outlined Tonight

Active steps will be taken tonight at a meeting to be held at the First Presbyterian church at eight o'clock for the annual session of the training school for Sunday school workers. As in the past three years, the local Methodist churches, the Presbyterian and the Christian church have united in undertaking the course of training which has been found distinctly helpful in preparing workers for larger effort.

Tonight's meeting will be for the purpose of setting up the organization. The First Presbyterian church this year invited the Training school to meet there and this was readily availed of. The sessions will begin on September 25th and will last until the following Sunday during which time class periods will be held daily by an expert faculty of recognized teachers who will be brought here.

Tonight, Miss Ethel Smith, associated superintendent of the Virginia day school workers association and who will outline her ideas as to courses.

DANVILLE PLAYS
IT'S ROLE IN DEFENSE TEST

Fair Grounds Quickly
Converted Into Regulation
Army Camp

Men and women of Danville today contributed their part in the great national movement designed by General John J. Pershing to test the adequacy of the nation's defense. The observation here was similar to that in thousands of cities of the nation and was marked by the mobilization of the four local National Guard units swelled, during the afternoon, by a number of civilian recruits who came to the fair grounds to see the country's call. Until today it was estimated that 250 civilians would report for service this afternoon this number being secured by the National Guard units located here and at the local army recruiting station.

Early this afternoon it was planned to put the National Guard companies through maneuvers and drill, these to terminate at 4:30 o'clock when Rev. Charles Garrison will make a patriotic address at the Fair Grounds. Afterwards, the guardsmen and the civilian recruits will parade down town to their armories and will be dispersed for the day. The National Guard units are being equipped with the latest military equipment and will be returned by truck.

The fair grounds at one o'clock presented a distinctive martial appearance with the four company streets lined out from the standards of the units with "pup tents" set up for the fair grounds at one o'clock. The field kitchens giving forth the distantly recollected odor of chow. On the outside the whippet tanks were lined and were being tuned up for this afternoon's work while at the headquarters tents the commanding officers and their staffs were found ready to function upon the receipt of orders.

It was estimated that 255 National Guardsmen were on duty this morning with more than 100 pup tents reared each man's equipment lying neatly assembled within. The Hospital Company brought out its full equipment. There is a receiving tent one used for operations, a tent for contagious diseases, two ward tents and one devoted to casuals recovering and about to be evacuated either to the hospital or to the patient's home. Six complete sets of surgical implements were on the ground with a competent staff of surgeons who are ready to function. The hospital has been equipped with 189 bandages for soldiers, each tent by one o'clock this afternoon, having its complement of cots and bedding.

The duties devolving on the hospital company were heavier this morning than on the other companies mobilized under the call for it possesses a greater amount of equipment to be handled today than the others. The three other organizations however brought out all their material and were prepared as far as possible for effective service.

Major Clyde Bailey commanding officer of the 110th hospital corps is commanding officer of the camp by virtue of his appointment by Governor Trimble. The 25th tank corps is in charge of the camp. In charge of Lieut. H. E. Hayes in the absence of Capt. A. K. Raine who is at Fairmont, N. C. The Coast Defense band which is to play for the drill this afternoon and which will give a concert after the patriotic address is led by Warrant Officer, J. H. Hall. The 24th coast artillery unit recently established here is in Richmond of Capt. Harry Adkins. The Red Cross canteen organization which is established in a booth at the fair grounds is manned by several members of that organization with Mrs. Herbert M. Martin in charge.

Staff Sergeant H. C. Jarnagin who has charge of the United States army recruiting station in Danville, reported at 1 o'clock that 60 men had volunteered during the past five days for one day's service and had signed papers. About two hundred in addition to these were expected to report to the commanding officers of the national guard units for actual service this afternoon.

The Defense Day program failed to elicit any great degree of enthusiasm in the city although during the morning a number of citizens visiting the camp were interested in watching its development and the strict application of military regimen. Only three national emblems appeared on the business section of Main street, one of these appearing in a conspicuous position upside down. Several residences in the city however put up their colors this morning.

The climax of the day insofar as Danville is concerned will be the patriotic address a five part at half past four o'clock at which time a large number of citizens are expected to be on hand to watch the maneuvers and drills and to hear Rev. Mr. Garrison.

Preliminary reports to the local of 250 civilians were in charge indicated a turnout of from 25,000 to 30,000 men. Aside from the assembling of preliminary reports, the War Department faced a long course of study over the detailed accounts of what takes place over the country during the day. TOWN TOPICS

Preparations are already being made for the meeting next Friday night of the Danville Post, American Legion, at which nominations for Post officials will be made. The election will take place at the October meeting. It is planned this year to consider all nominations from the floor and not to have a nominating committee. Carson Conway and Dr. W. O. Hankins are mentioned as successors to Waverley H. Cousins, now rounding out his second successive year as Post Commander. Under the new constitution adopted at the Danville convention a change is made in the beginning of the terms of office for all post officials with the result that those elected in October will automatically go out of office at the August meeting. The purpose of this is that the new Post commanders throughout the State shall be chosen prior to the annual convention so that the incoming officers may profit by the inspiration of the Legion convention.

Chief of Police James R. Bell this morning reported having issued nineteen five day permit cards to car owners of Danville who have not yet received their certificates of registration. The purpose of this is that the new Post commanders throughout the State shall be chosen prior to the annual convention so that the incoming officers may profit by the inspiration of the Legion convention.

Today's session of the corporation court was of short duration no jury being summoned. Judge Withered heard a few motions and adjourned the session until tomorrow. The action instituted by the American National Bank against A. C. Conway to recover means secured by notes of which Mr. Conway is one endorser were continued until October 7th. It developed that City Attorney Aiken is a witness and he has gone to New York to consult with the firm of lawyers who are consulting with the city in connection with the recent bond issues. Phil Brown against the People's Mutual Benefit Insurance Company Incorporated a jury found a verdict for the plaintiff for $4,444.

The only Danville man known to have witnessed last night's prizefight at Boyles' Thirty Acres was City Attorney Aiken. He went to the Washington to discuss Danville's bond litigation with a firm of attorneys and who found it possible to witness the twelve round event.

Lions Make Merry
at Ruffin Meet

The Lions' meeting held at Ruffin, N. C. yesterday evening when a number of men and women of that community were the guests, proved to be a highly entertaining social affair and afforded plenty of fun. The program carried out was similar in many respects to that seen at Whitcomb a few days ago, the Lions deriving as much enjoyment out of the proceedings as did the guests. A bountiful supper was served on the lawn of the home of Professor Andrews which adjoins the new Ruffin school, this being served to about 250 persons. After the meal all repaired to the school auditorium where the scheduled events took place. Wayles R. Harrison, president of the club, presided and after business had been attended to the meeting was turned over to the program committee of which R. P. Moss was chairman. Rev. J. C. Hall delivered a short address on Lionism. Basil Browder and Miss Esther Roseburg sang, other musical numbers being given by the Ruffin school. Westbrooke Orchestra also the Riverside string quartet. H. G. Thomas gave "The Bell of Aulnay" as a reading.

B. G. Lewis was the principal figure of the most trying hour of Judge C. K. Carter. Some time ago on the occasion of the Mount Vernon church picnic to Rockingham county playground he lost his coat, placing it in the trunk of an automobile which he had left behind him. The coat was found by a teacher in the school and was returned to the Danville party. He was charged with behavior unbecoming a Lion and after powerful efforts by Judge E. J. Harvey for the prosecution and Willie Norton for the defense, the case was turned over to the greater for the next thirty days. A number of prizes were offered last night. An alarm clock with its face concealed was gaudied among the guests on the understanding that whoever found it would be given a five-dollar prize. Mrs. R. F. Moss won the prize. A bank book with a five-dollar deposit in the American National bank to her credit, Mrs. John Chandler was awarded a prize offered by Z. V. Johnson for having the largest number of girls, eight, while E. V. Strider also won a premium for having that many sons. B. G. Lewis offered a useful set of kitchen utensils to the first woman of Ruffin who weds. W. T. Adkins won the attendance prize, a handsome knife.

BOARD MAY ADD MORE TEACHERS
TO THE FACULTY

School Trustees Will Act
On Congregation When
Grading Is Completed

The city school board met last night in the office of Superintendent W. C. Griggs and discussed a number of problems which have arisen incident to the beginning of the new school year. A number of routine matters of lesser importance kept the board in session for a considerable time.

The board will take no immediate action toward relieving congestion at those points where it is heaviest, until a week has elapsed by which time it will be possible to deal more intelligently with the situation. It is expected that a number of children will have been included in the enrollment by that time and the board will take action only when the attendance figures are more permanent than they are now.

It is just possible that additional teachers will have to be secured through additions to the faculty will not be undertaken until the size of the classes has been more apparent than now. The congestion is greatest at Rison Park school and very probably children now attending that school will be transferred to Robert E. Lee school. The dividing up of the assembly rooms in both of these schools will not be done except in an emergency. Principals of the various schools are now engaged in adjusting the congestion problem which is perhaps the most difficult of all.

The board last night approved certain improvements done to school buildings during the summer. The Bellevue improvement has been completed with the exception of cleaning the outside brick.

Blaise Elected,
Byrnes Concedes

(By The Associated Press.)
COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 12.—Coleman Livingston Blaise, twice governor and conceded to be the most powerful political leader in the state since "Pitchfork" Ben Tillman, will be junior senator from South Carolina for the next six years.

James F. Byrnes, representative in Congress from the second district of the state, today issued a statement accepting defeat in the democratic run-off primary of Tuesday, in which, according to latest available returns, he ran second to the former governor, J. B. Moton, out of a total of 154,000 tabulated. It was the closest senatorial race in this state in more than 20 years, state historical records show.

Defense Test Day Being Observed All Over Nation
By Uncle Sam In Ascertaining If Present-System Is the Best.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The nation's defense machinery intended for actual use only in the event of a war emergency was given its first test today, accompanied by patriotic demonstrations in every part of the United States and its possessions.

It was a limited test, the actual expansion of the defense machinery being designed to cover a period of months but dealing only with the question of personnel and not with supply, equipment, housing or training. The progressive stages were consolidated into this one day.

The day's program called for a trial of the decentralized defense machinery set up since the national defense act of 1920 was substituted for the pre-war system. Demonstration of the success of the new scheme of defense will signalize the separation from the military establishment at least so far as active services is involved, of General John Pershing, who has devoted his time since 1918 to perfecting it.

When the defense day tests actually got under way today it was a present to war department officials after studying reports from outlying commands, that their hopes had been enhanced by the response of the country. The response throughout the country of men who for the day had reported for "duty" to the corps area commanders and in the more local districts to the command and set up function like the draft boards did during the war.

For the day at least the navy was commanded by an officer of the army—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, its acting secretary, and the head of the department, Secretary Weeks, came to his office as a rear admiral from the naval reserve. Secretary Roosevelt appeared in his army uniform with the insignia of the first division with which he served in France.

When Colonel Roosevelt reported to Admiral Weeks' secretary office, he was assigned to duty for the day to the secretary's staff and directed to report later to participate in the parade here.

A flight over Washington and over the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington was the assignment given the world fliers who were held over here for the day.

PARADE IN LYNCHBURG

LYNCHBURG, Va., Sept. 12.—The Defense day program today, which involves the mobilization of the officers of three reserve companies of the 317 infantry, began this afternoon at 4 o'clock with a parade and review by Colonel L. A. L. Turner, of Baltimore, commander of the reserve regiment. After a parade of a local national guard unit, reserve officers, world war veterans and patriotic organizations, Colonel Aubrey E. Strode was given a meeting at the city auditorium.

Colonel Turner, who arrived here late last night from Baltimore, will preside at a banquet this evening at the Y. M. C. A. by the reserve officers.

WAR DEPT BUSY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Defense day dawned with the war department prepared for quick assembly at the close of the day of reports from the nine corps area commanders over the country who have the key to the centralized defense system that is to be subjected to its first trial.

Orders long ago distributed require that quick preliminary reports from all sections of the country, summarizing the results of the test in accordance with a pre-arranged schedule of information desired, be transmitted to Washington for recapitulation and announcement. The national results will be made known by the department after these reports have been brought together and the general totals computed.

Meanwhile, the war department's desks in all branches of the service virtually were turned over for the day to reserve officers. In the assignment of the reservists, provision was made for filling up quickly in a war emergency the staff posts necessary to war strength. All reserve officers of this group were invited to report for duty at the department for defense day, if their circumstances permitted, and a very considerable showing was expected before the day ended. The department also gave its aid to the local defense test program (Continued on Page Three)

LEOPOLD AND LOEB, WITH NATTY APPEARANCE GONE, START WORK TOMORROW

Leopold Will Weave Rattan Furniture and Loeb Will Work in Cabinet Division of Factory—With Hair Cropped, Boys Look More Solid.

(By The Associated Press.)
JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 12.—Richard Leopold and Nathan Leopold, the two boys who were sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of Robert Frank, started work today in the Joliet penitentiary. They were assigned to the furniture factory. Leopold will be in the rattan factory and Loeb will be in the cabinet division. The boys' natty appearance is gone. Their hair is cropped and they look more solid.

(By The Associated Press.)
JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 12.—Nathan F. Leopold junior and Richard Leopold today made the world's first trip to work in the Joliet penitentiary. They were assigned to the furniture factory. Leopold will be in the rattan factory and Loeb will be in the cabinet division. The boys' natty appearance is gone. Their hair is cropped and they look more solid.

The announcement was made by the warden immediately after the boys had attended the defense day services in the prison with 1200 other prisoners, dressed in blue denim jacket and trousers with their hair closely cropped. The boys sat almost in the middle of the prison yard. They stared straight ahead and refused to smile when other prisoners laughed at some remark of the speaker.

When they rose to pass out all the prisoners turned to take a long look at the latest occupants of the institution. No. 9305 and No. 9306.

The boys, Warden Whitman announced, will be kept in different sections of the prison and will have cells alone for a time. This morning they sat near each other, but the natty appearance and swaggering air of the past was gone. Leopold kept his face down and Loeb did little more than glance over the auditorium.

Loeb will be occupied in the cabinet work division of the furniture factory. Leopold will weave rattan furniture.

The report of guards to Warden Whitman this morning showed that the boys passed their first night in prison uneventfully. Leopold went to his bunk at once and Loeb before 9 o'clock and both slept peacefully. Leopold appeared downhearted, according to the guards report. They listened this morning to a concert by the prison band and to a Defense Day address by the Rev. Arthur Hamilton, prison chaplain.

Warden Whitman told newspapermen that the prison authorities hope to guide and remodel the characters of the prisoners and added that to this end the youths will be kept apart from any outside influences, including friends, relatives, newspapermen and interviewers.

The length of the restriction will depend on their development, he said.

Lady Says She Was So Nervous That Least Noise Upset Her—In Splendid Health After Taking Cardui.

Wichita, Falls, Texas—Mrs. C. L. Eason, of this city, says that she was in a run-down condition, several months ago. "It seemed as if I was tired all the time," she says.

"My back hurt right all day. I ached and ached until I could hardly go. I felt weak and I didn't feel like doing anything. My work was a great burden to me. I just hated to do up the dishes, even. I was very no-account and extremely nervous."

"My mother had taken Cardui and she thought it would do me good, so she told me to take it. My husband got me a bottle and I began on it. I began to improve at once. It was such a help that I continued it until after the baby's birth."

"I took eight bottles and I can certainly say that it helped me. It is a fine tonic. It built me up and seemed to strengthen me. I grew less nervous and began to sleep better."

"I can certainly recommend Cardui to expectant mothers for to me it was a wonderful help."

"In every way I felt better after taking it and I think it is a splendid medicine."

Cardui is purely vegetable, and contains no harmful drugs.

Quiet Life From Now On

America's most famous living general, John J. Pershing, is going into retirement. This is his most recent picture. He was entertained lavishly on the eve of his passing from official life.

PERSHING WILL RETIRE FROM SERVICE TONIGHT

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—General Pershing will be retired from active service tonight at midnight by orders issued and signed personally by President Coolidge as commander in chief of the army and navy of the United States.

The order, issued only in cases of retirement of military officers who held the rank of full general, will take the form of a general announcement to the army that General Pershing has passed to the retired list.

It is probable also that the order will be accompanied by a personal letter from President Coolidge recognizing the general's services to the nation.

Hundreds of reserve officers, many in uniform for the first time since they were mustered out of the service, took the opportunity to bid farewell today to General Pershing.

Messages of greeting were received by General Pershing from officers of the allied armies associated with him during the war. One came from Major General Denehy, chief of staff of the French army, who declared "your brothers" in arms will keep alive always the memory of the eminent chief who brought the valiant American troops to France and led them to the common victory for right and liberty.

Mr. J. M. Turner, a Confederate veteran living near Danville, is spending several weeks in Bedford with friends. Mr. Turner is 83 years old and quite feeble.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Sanders, of Athens, Ala., are spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. E. Walton Brown.

Mrs. Horace Smith and son, Horace III, who have been spending several weeks with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Overbey, returned to their home in Richmond last night.

Miss Kate Armstrong, of Columbia, S. C., who has been the guest of Mrs. Josephine Halcomb, leaves today for Greenbriar White Sulphur Springs to attend a convention of insurance writers.

as did other government departments. All staff officers were ordered into uniform for the day and those who could be spared from their desks turned out to march in the military and civil parade which was the culminating feature of the capital's defense test program. The review of the parade by President Coolidge, supported by Secretary Weeks, General Pershing and other high government officials, gave it somewhat of a national character.

VIRGINIA JOINS IN

(By The Associated Press.)
RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 12.—Virginia joined her sister states today in observance of National Defense day. National Guard units tested their ability to mobilize in case of national emergency, and citizens generally participated in a statewide program.

Every able bodied Virginian had been called to serve for the day only in one of the national guard units. According to acting Adjutant General Joseph Lemaire, this call for "one day" soldiers met with a hearty response in every section of the state.

Scenes enacted at National Guard armories today resembled the activity of war time mobilization. From all indications the military program of the day should prove a success and Virginia's report on her defensive preparations take a rough standing among the states. Lieut. Colonel Masser said.

Designated by special specifications of Governor E. Lee Trinkle, the Defense Day which was also the observance of the six anniversary of the reduction of the St. Mihiel by the American expeditionary forces in 1918, called forth patriotic gatherings of citizens in every county in the state. In a number of cities and counties elaborate speaking programs were carried out, together with parades in which civilians and civic organizations joined with the military.

DENIES PRINCE OF WALES ATTENDED JERSEY FIGHT
(By The Associated Press.)
SYOSSET, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Captain Lascelles, secretary to the Prince of Wales today took offense at published reports that the Prince had attended the Willis-Firpo fight at Jersey City last night by issuing a denial.

Britain's heir attended a private dinner party last night, Captain Lascelles assured the correspondents. The prince retired at 2:30 o'clock this morning, the earliest hour at which he has gone to his room within a week.

Good Morning Judge!

Police Magistrate C. K. Carter this morning fined M. C. Long, $10 for committing an assault on Mrs. Martha Long, aged 75, his mother. Long was arrested yesterday after his mother had appeared at the police court at which time she is said to have stated that her son seized her by the throat and held her. He was released on bond until today. The police magistrate expecting rehearsal of evidence involving a child held the hearing behind closed doors. Later the magistrate asserted that Mrs. Long had declined to appear against her son and had asked the privilege of withdrawing the warrant. This however, was not done and under cross examination, the physical facts of the assault were established though not in detail and a fine was entered. A domestic difference of long standing is said to have been cause for the assault.

The case of Edwin Ramey, charged with the larceny of a raincoat, was dismissed at costs.

Florence Mays, taken in custody recently as a fugitive from the Bon Air school for incorrigible girls, has been turned over to authorities from that place.

A warrant charging W. J. Turner with vagrancy, was dismissed at costs.

Walter Smith, colored, drew a fine of $10 and costs for violating the traffic ordinance.

J. L. Forbes, colored, was assessed $21 and costs for speeding.

A fine of $5 and costs was imposed on Hugh Shelton, colored, for operating a car without a chauffeur's license.

NEW STEEL BODY OF DODGE BROTHERS IS ON EXHIBITION

Gardner Motor Co., local Dodge Brothers dealers, now have on exhibition in their salesroom the half-skeleton steel body which attracted so much attention in the educational exhibit held by Dodge Brothers in connection with the New York, Chicago and San Francisco shows.

The body is unique in that one-half is enameled, trimmed, upholstered and finished like the body of a car ready for use, and the other half is entirely unfinished, showing clearly every part of the strong, light, safe, all-steel construction.

The upholstery and trimming are cut at the center line of the car, showing the deep cushion springs and the genuine hair padding.

The finished side of the body shows a fine, smooth, lustrous surface. The reputation for retaining newness of appearance after years of service is

NEW STEEL BODY OF DODGE BROTHERS IS ON EXHIBITION

The unfinished half shows how the frame, consisting of pressed steel parts welded and riveted together, gives maximum strength and stiffness together with light weight and freedom from warping and from squeaks and rattles. No wood whatever enters into the construction of the body except the frames for the removable cushions and the few strips to which the trimming materials are tacked. Even the moulding around the windows, which upon the closest examination looks like varnished wood, is of pressed steel finished in baked enamel.

Dodge Brothers have applied steel body construction to their Type A and Type B sedans as well as to the business coupe, touring car and roadster. According to the local dealer, the fact that the body is built entirely of steel adds materially to the safety of the passengers, as it minimizes splinter and fire hazard. Moreover, steel construction is light, affording maximum strength with minimum weight. The interior of the body is more roomy than would be the case if wood were used because the strong steel supports are less bulky than wood pillars.

These and many other advantages of all steel body construction, it is pointed out by the dealer, make it obvious that the life of the body is greatly prolonged even in the most severe service.

Everyone interested in seeing this unusual body is cordially invited to the Patton street salesrooms any time during the week, from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m.

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotion Revealed in Private Letters

"I won't have you talking to that fellow!" exclaimed Jack.

I shook my head at him.

"What's the matter?" said Karl.

"Your voice does not sound at all like you."

"There is nothing the matter except Jack just got in last evening and brought little Jack, and I guess my nerves went back on me, for I faint, but I'm right now. When you first called up, Jack seemed to swear the phone, but when I knew it was you I insisted upon taking your message myself."

"You got my letter, did you?"

"Yes, dear."

There was a smothered exclamation from my husband behind my back.

"It was a very splendid letter, very brave, very self-sacrificing. I haven't had time yet to show it to Jack, but I'm going to."

"Will you tell him that if he wants to see me or even if he wants to see Alice, I shall insist upon her making an explanation to him. Of course, you must remember that Alice was not quite herself. She still is very unsettled and nervous. She must have some kind of excitement all the time, then again she is very melancholy. I am not sure that I will not have to take her out of the country. Poor child, I do not know what she would do if it were not for her. I think she has some kind of sudden fear that her mother and father do not love her any more, and of course she says that you will never care for her again. I called you up to ask if you would not write her a little note to let her know you have forgiven her."

"I think it would be better, Karl, if you would insist upon Alice coming home. If she gets over the morbid fear of meeting us and knows that we still care for her, I think everything will be all right. Why don't you try to get her here while Jack is with us, and we'll have a kind of family reunion."

"He'll have to come pretty suddenly," Jack interrupted. "She won't let me stay away more than a day. I'm going back not later than tomorrow night."

I was in a quandary. Ruth I didn't know how to finish my conversation with Karl with such a sudden change. I didn't want him to know that my husband was still angry with me, and I knew that Karl would want me to make some explanation.

Karl happily said: "Here comes Alice. I don't think we would better talk any more. She has become very suspicious of everything I do."

"Goodbye then, I'll answer your letter tomorrow."

"I'll say you won't," again came the ugly voice behind me.

Ringing off with a jerk I turned and faced my husband.

"I'll say I will. I'm tired of your sudden tempers, John. I am going to be a free born white woman from now on."

"Then I think I would better say goodbye and return," came in cold cutting accents.

"You can do quite as you please. I have made all the concessions possible."

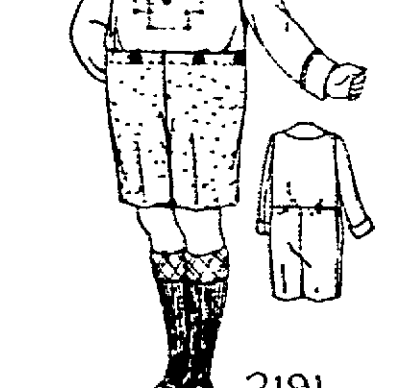

Fate intervened, however. Mother came in and said to Jack:

"Jack, your father wants to see you."

Without a look backward, she strode away.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

By HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—George Harvey, acute political analyst, who after helping put Woodrow Wilson into national politics and getting him elected president, switched over to the C. O. P. and got appointed ambassador to Great Britain, believes the Ku Klux Klan may yet become one of the major issues in the presidential campaign this year.

According to Harvey's study of the situation, all the utterances to date about the Klan have been "piffle."

Mention of the Klan by Democratic Candidate Davis, in his New Jersey speech, George says, was only decided on after Davis had arrived in Jersey and conferred with Governor Silzer and Frank Hague, state boss. To him it looks as though somebody had said:

"The Klan is strongest in the south and you'll win there anyhow. Go ahead, name the Klan and put Coolidge in a hole."

Anyway, according to George, no principal was involved. What Davis said about the Klan. There was no amplification of what already had been said, no denunciation of the Klan for anything it had done. But he named the Klan, which seemed to be the important thing, by saying:

"Whenever any organization no matter what it chooses to be called, whether Ku Klux Klan or by any other name, raises the standard of racial and religious belief as a test of fitness for public office, it does violence to the spirit of American institutions."

"Notice that 'whenever' cautions Harvey. It isn't said that the Klan does these things. Simply that if or whenever any organization did them, then they should be condemned."

"It was like a prosecuting attorney declaring, 'If or whenever a man or What Not, commits a crime, he is a criminal.'"

Then the Davis "denunciation" concluded by an invitation to President Coolidge to "join me by some explicit declaration in entirely removing this topic from the field of political debate."

White Coolidge has so far remained silent. His running mate, General

A GREAT LEADER RETIRES

The retirement today to private life of General John J. Pershing after having reached that age when the government relieves its officers of active duty was unostentatious and without ceremony Pershing however leaves the service of the United States government assured of a niche in the hall of fame for he will be always remembered as the leader of the greatest American army and a successful leader at that. The altho powers in the world war will always quarrel over their proportionate role in the winning of the war. Nobody will deny that although America entered the struggle late it was Pershing's army that turned the tide and brought about the collapse of the Teutonic powers a full year before the American government anticipated.

General Pershing has always lacked those human traits which made him an idol of his troops, as for instance that enjoyed by General Joffre of the French armies whose sobriquet of "Papa" was earned by his fatherly regard and perhaps a closer communion with his men. Pershing however, had the profound respect and admiration of all of his subordinates and the rank and file of the army who, fully recognized that he was a stern leader and that his qualities of rugged efficiency marked him as thoroughly reliable in the arts of war. His concept of duty was what really led to his being placed in command of the American armies, we have been recently told in a rather intimate story regarding his appointment. The War Department had full faith in Pershing knowing that he could be implicitly relied upon to do just as he was instructed and not to take advantage of that latitude which naturally comes to men leading vast organizations. To soldiers this is perhaps the greatest compliment which will stick in the minds of the American people as they from time to time turn to measure the stalwart figure of a great leader. His services during the world war crisis by the very enormity of that struggle eclipses his other service but it is nonetheless service to be remembered. His leadership in the difficult Mexican situation and in dealing with the troublesome head hunters of the Philippines was tactful and characterized by a high degree of devotion to duty. Again, his quiet and unobtrusive work since the war is worthy of consideration. It has been Pershing who, since the war has not lost the proper perspective of the necessity of adequate defense measures and who has refused to be carried away by post war reaction and idealism. Today's great national stock taking of defense assets is due primarily to General Pershing who has since the war concentrated his energies against any lapse in governmental protection.

SIXTY WEST IN ONE CLASS

Secretary Wilbur offers a number of plausible reasons for his order, just published, that graduates of the Naval Academy must hereafter serve two years as ensigns before being permitted to resign from the service. The immediate reason is that 60 members of the last graduating class resigned their commissions immediately on their receipt. The secretary feels if the government pays a cadet $780 a year for the privilege of educating him and maintains an expensive establishment to prepare him for a naval career, the graduate is under some obligation to try to repay the government for this trouble and expense. It may be objected that many cadets are young when they enter Annapolis and that their aspirations to a life at sea may change during training, but there is something to be said for the secretary's objection to losing 60 expensive-trained officers from a single class.

What is particularly interesting about the incident, however, is the manner in which the secretary's ideas have been altered by time. Mr. Wilbur graduated from the academy in 1888. He resigned from the naval service the same year. It is not known exactly how much service he saw before he resigned, but it is probable he had not fully discharged the implied obligation he now cites. To pursue the matter further, is two years' service sufficient to repay the government for its effort? Possibly if the ensign is unusually brilliant it can be done. There is, for example, the instance of another cabinet member, Mr. Weeks, who graduated from Annapolis in 1881 and resigned exactly two years later, in which time it must be assumed, according to the recent order, his debt to the government was duly redeemed.

THE TRUTH STANDS

So far as the fact is concerned or popular judgment with respect to it, it is unimportant whether or not Germany retracts its confession of war guilt. Why should there be excitement in the lands of the war allies over the probability that German nationalists will force their government to send a note to the powers asserting innocence of crimes acknowledged in the Treaty of Versailles? The position of the victors will not be adversely affected. Domestic tranquility in Germany may be promoted by the dispatch of the proposed note, and this would be of benefit throughout Europe.

Confession of guilt was part of the penalty Germany had to pay for losing the war. The confession was extorted as an act of justice. But none of the statesmen who dictated the confession had any delusion as to the quality of the German admission. They never expected Germany to stand by it in later years. They knew that Germans always would distort the record. There can be no surprise in the action now contemplated. Why should there be objection to it? Why not indulge the Germans in their futile by-play if it makes them better satisfied to discharge their treaty obligations? Their saying what every body knows is in their minds will not hurt others. The truth will stand forever.

Love in extreme cases resembles the law of gravity or the force that pulls a needle to a magnet. It is one of the very few psychic or spiritual forces that exists in all people.

Maybe some heartless scientist of the future will learn how to neutralize love—enable its victims to forget its lure—as we now can demagnetize metal.

ENMESHED

The Michigan farmer who feigned insanity to join his beloved wife in the asylum acted quite as sensibly as a good many other people when they're in love.

Unhappily the victims get the laughs and blame that properly belong to the emotion that temporarily arrests control from them. No one is entirely sane when in love.

Poker Portraits

Scoop's Colyum

DRAKES BRANCH, September 12.—(Grapevine Wireless).—A tough looking customer came in the sanctum the other day, and began lamenting the fact that he and his wife had separated, and that she was going to get a divorce.

He told us that on the way he had "stoppin' at a blind pig for a drink of wood alcohol, and had chased it down with a glass of low corn." He also related that he had about seven hand-to-hand encounters with wild cats and panthers down near his home in the southern part of the county, all of which he killed without any weapon and that he had used his mules on the farm, he used to live rattlesnake for a whip.

Finally, we said, "My pard, why did you and your wife separate?"

"Well," he answered, "she said she wasn't going to have no cake-eater like me hanging round."

THE TROUBLE WITH BEING BORN POOR IS THAT YOU NEVER GET USED TO IT!

Sauntered over to the Postoffice yesterday for our mail and while meandering around overheard the following: "Have I got no yer? There must be one here! Haviyou looked carefully? I know I was written, but you have misplaced, I guess. I'll get the postman, is holding my mail!"

"When sorting the mail, it was very queer that letters are laid after first. It's papers I want, and my parcel." "Is the mail reger here?" "Do you sell stamps?" "Ten box 44." "Has the mail been sorted?" "Say, Frank, will this letter get yer?" "Is the mail traon time?" "Have I time to go to the bank?" "At all, needs sorting." "Are these bags full of mail?" "All you see." "A letter from Chaitin says parcel was sent. Must be he or they wouldn't write me."

They are still rambling merrily and about bobbed hair. Aunt Fern writes as follows:

A complaint I have again, being is that it seems that the who would look best with bobbed hair, don't bob, while the ones who change is not improved by bobbing are the ones that fall for it. To same condition results, in fact, when it comes to women and milk weary khaki trousers.

A True Diplomat.

Because he had been a naughty boy he was sent to bed without any pudding. But in the evening, when his brother had stated that he was fast asleep, he crept downstairs a tearful, white robed figure, and said to his mother:

"Mummy, you told me never to go to sleep till I had made peace with my enemies, so I've come down to forgive you and daddy for being so rude with me tonight."

HALF GAME BETWEEN GIANTS AND ROBINS

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Brooklyn continues to be anchored right out of the National League leadership. The Dodgers today won a hard-fought 11 inning game from the Phillies and drove up within a half a game behind the Giants when the McGraw athletes enjoyed an off-day. All three leaders chalked up marks on the right side of the ledger in the American league. The Yankees, however, gaining half a game on their rivals by winning twice from Boston while Washington was winning a single game from the Athletics.

ROCKNE COACHES IN VA. AGAIN NEXT YEAR

(By The Associated Press)
WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Sept. 11.—Knute Rockne, Notre Dame football coach, announced tonight he will conduct only two schools for coaches next year, one at Notre Dame and the other at William and Mary college here.

Rockne brought the school here to have been conducting here to a close today and left tonight for South Bend, Ind., to direct the practice season of Notre Dame gridiron players. The coach directed five training schools this year. Before leaving here, he said the work had been too strenuous for him as a result he had decided to rest more next summer. Members of the William and Mary football team presented him with leather folio in appreciation of his work here.

Famous Westminster Hospital, in London, was founded in 1715, when four philanthropists met in a Fleet street coffee shop to discuss a means of caring for the sick.

BROWN PANTHER TAMES ARGENTINE WILD BULL IN TWELVE-ROUND BATTLE

Negro Stands Out As Conqueror by Decisive Margin—South American Battered and Beaten Through Entire Fight and His Career Has Ended Unless He Stages a Sensational and Unexpected Come Back.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The Panther has tamed the Wild Bull in the battle for supremacy among the ring's jinglers.

This was the conviction that close to 80,000 spectators carried away with them last night after Harry Wills had battered and beaten Luis Angel Firpo into complete submission in a 12-round bout that surprised the entire gathering by going the limit.

When the smoke of conflict had lifted from Boyle's Thirty Acres, scene of many historic ring encounters, Wills stood out as the conqueror by a margin so decisive that it left no room for debate.

While Firpo's mighty right was reduced to impotence by a crafty, shifty defense, the giant negro knocked the hurley Argentine down for a count of four in the second round and whipped him thoroughly in the other eleven with a slashing, bruising, merciless battery of thrusts to head and body.

Wills won by a one-sided margin on points. He fought a cool, carefully planned battle, in superb condition and employing all his assets of speed and ring skill the big negro blocked the most furious of Firpo's rushes and at the same time delivered an attack at close range that steadily beat down even the staunch courage and endurance of the massive South American.

A year ago, almost to a day, Firpo went down in the second round of a fight after a savage, slugging battle with Jack Dempsey which the finer art of ring craft was tossed to the winds. Last night the Argentine went down to defeat before science and skill.

Thus this meteoric South American, among the most colorful ring figures of all time, has failed to survive the test, either with brute force and skill, and unless his gallant fighting spirit carries him to an unexpected comeback, Firpo's fistic star so far as title hopes are concerned, appears to have set.

Wills, on the other hand, in brushing aside his foremost rival, has stepped back into the position of logical contender for the title worn by Dempsey. Off and on he has held the distinction for the past three years, challenging the titleholder with patient and unavailing persistence. It is no novelty for him and there is now no chance he can fulfill his hope of a battle with the champion for at least a year.

But convincing as was Wills' triumph over Firpo, and its proof that he had come back to remarkable fighting condition, his performance did not in the opinion of most critics, brighten whatever prospect he has of dethroning Dempsey. To those who watched the giant negro pound and wrestle his ponderous opponent into submission, there remained a conviction that for the present at least, Dempsey has a little to fear.

Wills showed all the ring craft, speed and skill which has lifted him close to the top of the heavyweight heap. Firpo, crude as he is, looked cruder by comparison but in the final analysis the fact remained that Wills did not have the power behind his punches to send Firpo down for the final count.

The negro flayed Firpo with every blow in the fistic category—sharp jolts to the ribs and kidneys, rapier-like thrusts to the jaw, sweeping rights to the head and body and short left uppercuts that stung. It was a straight to the chin that sent Firpo sprawling to his back in the second round but though the Argentine was round but through a complete knockout, Wills could not successfully follow up his advantage.

The outstanding blow was delivered under unusual circumstances. It came as they were breaking from a clinch and with Firpo's guard down, unsuspecting. Wills, seeing his sudden opening, shot over his right, it landed squarely and with full force.

NORDACS FOR MEN ONLY

the negro immediately clinched. The referee used his knee to pry the two apart. The referee warned Wills for holding on. Both landed beautiful uppercuts. Firpo was wild with his right. Wills staggered Firpo with a right flush on the face, but the negro did not follow up his advantage. It was the best blow of the fight. Firpo uppercut Wills with his right. Firpo missed a right and gave rise to uppercut the law in return. They were in a clinch at the bell.

Round Five
Wills' left staggered Firpo and the Argentine clinched. Both landed to the body. They clinched. They wrestled around the ring, pulling and hauling at each other. Firpo landed twice to the head. Wills was blocking beautifully. Firpo could not get set for a blow. Wills' right stung Firpo's kidneys. Wills' right stung Firpo, the Argentine countering with another right to the head in return. They were sparring for an opening at the bell.

Round Six
They exchanged rights and lefts to head. There was plenty of body punching at close quarters. Firpo landed weakly to Wills' head. Wills smiled as he blocked Firpo's leaps, to evade one of Wills' rushes. They continued their wrestling tactics. Wills' right found Firpo's jaw again but the South American got in a sweet uppercut which sent Wills' head backward, just as the bell rang.

Round Seven
They fell into their usual clinch as they met in the center of the ring. Firpo danced away from Wills' right. The Argentine's plunging rushes were missing. Wills doubled Firpo with a left to the body. They pulled and hauled each other around the ring, hitting with their free hands at any opening available. Firpo got in a right and left to the head which Wills could not block, but no damage was done. Wills jabbed with his left and crossed with his right, staggering Firpo in his own corner. The negro was hitting harder than his opponent. A right to the jaw made Firpo grudge. Two heavy body blows followed but the bell stopped Wills from following up further.

Round Eight
Wills' left found Firpo's body and his right went to the jaw as the bell rang in the center of the ring. Firpo jabbed weakly with his left but Wills blocked a right cross which followed. A straight right sent Firpo's head backward. The negro was boxing superbly. Wills landed effectively to the body in a clinch. Wills' punches were carrying more steam than his rival's. Firpo was short with a right uppercut. The negro landed twice to Firpo's body. They exchanged blows in a clinch at the end of the round.

Round Nine
The negro tied Firpo up when he started one of his rushing attacks. Firpo led with his right and followed with a left. They exchanged heavy blows at close quarters. The negro's reach bothered Firpo. Wills stood off and peppered Firpo at long range, landing effectively six times without an absolute return. Wills was going away as Wills' right struck his jaw. The negro was gaining confidence. Firpo led with his right but Wills cleverly blocked the blow and caught Firpo on the side of the head coming in. Firpo's right hit Wills' jaw, but the head but the negro only smiled. The bell stopped the fight in the middle of a clinch.

Round Ten
They exchanged body blows. Firpo protested to the referee for hitting in the clinches. Wills' heavy right was finding Firpo's body consistently. Wills landed a one-two punch to Firpo's body but took a solid one in his wind in return. Firpo danced away from a right and then clinched. Firpo landed weakly to Wills' jaw and followed it with a right to the body which stung the negro. Wills took a beautiful right on the jaw just as the bell rang.

Round Eleven
Wills rushed to meet Firpo but the Argentine clinched. Wills hooked his right to Firpo's jaw as the referee attempted to part them. Firpo landed his right to Wills' jaw and followed with a right to the body, but the latter's steam was as much as Wills' hanging on as both principals. Firpo swung his right to Wills' jaw twice in rapid succession but the negro kept concentrating to the heavy body blows which he had absorbed. Firpo was retreating his right over better but also taking plenty of body punishment. They were tied tight at the bell.

Round Twelve
They shook hands. They immediately clinched. Firpo hanging on desperately. Wills was opening up, trying frantically to put over a finishing blow. He continued his relentless body attack. Firpo was hanging on savagely. Wills missed a right but landed two successive rights to the head a moment later. Firpo landed his right straight to Wills' face but the negro continued to smile. They continued their clinching and wrestling tactics. Firpo got the worst of the exchange which followed.

WILLS WINS NEWSPAPER DECISION.

SUNBURN
A day at the beach, the soft, springy sand, a dive and a swim in cool, sparkling water, forgetful of the burning rays of that ball of fire in the sky. It's glorious while it lasts. But those burning rays did their work. Their fire is on your arms, your shoulders, your neck. Clothes are a burden, every move is painful, every action is torture.

Swab LICARBO on that sunburn. Away goes the soreness, out goes the fire. A slap on the shoulders brings a laugh instead of a cry of pain.

Big Haul of Whiskey Made at Fight Scene

(By The Associated Press)
JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 11.—Prohibition agents scored the first knockdown at Boyle's Thirty Acres late today as the cases for the Firpo-Wills encounter opened. Sixty men by R. Q. Merrick, division chief for New York and New Jersey, seized several hundred cases of whiskey, 500 gallons of beer and made a number of arrests.
One of the seizures was a sack-house making for the Jersey shore in the vicinity of the arena. Aboard were 250 cases of whiskey which were seized. Merrick declared the liquor was intended for sale to the fight fans in the big bowl tonight.

YANKS ARE DRIVING FRANTICALLY ON HEELS OF WASHINGTON SENATORS

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—While the New York Giants are hanging by the tips of their fingers to a scant lead in the National League, the New York Yankees are driving frantically on the heels of Stanley Harris' Washington Senators to overcome the "row" margin that separates the "mfron" first place.

The race in each league is narrowed down to a two-some instead of a threesome, the western teams slowly fading out of the pennant picture.

While the "mfron" is considered in the running in the younger circuit due to the "breaks" in the schedule which favor it, the chances are looking more favorable every day for the American League pennant to slide over the banks of the Harlem or the Potomac.

Pittsburgh is also slowly emulating a setting sun. The Giants yesterday spent an idle day while Brooklyn, continuing its relentless spurt to overtake the McGraw athletes, won over the Phillies and drew up to within speaking distance of the pinnacle. The Phillies, however, made Uncle Robbie know there was a baseball in progress as the Robins were forced to stay 11 innings to win the decision, 8 to 7.

The Yankees gained yesterday by winning a pair from Boston, 4 to 3 and 8 to 3, while both Washington and Detroit sank their putts in the victory cup, the Senators trouncing the Athletics, 7 to 4, while the Tigers nosed-out Chicago, 5 to 4, in an overtime session.

Cleveland, tugging desperately to squeeze into the first division ahead of George Sisler's Browns, gave the St. Louis team a double trimming 12 to 7 and 10 to 6. Frankie Ellerbe's circuit slap in the ninth inning with the bases saturated aided in bringing about a decision in the opener.

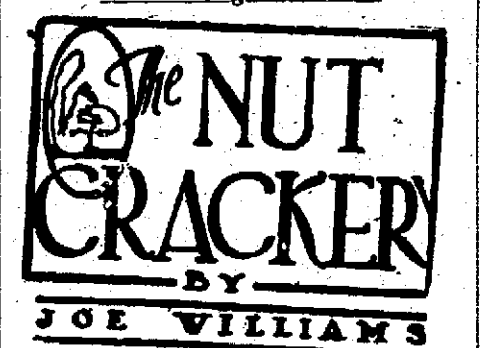

But the real race in the American League starts tomorrow when the Yankees and Senators open up in the west. It will be a tough grind for the contenders and the one which can stand the strain the better will get the world's series spoils.

The broadcast of the Firpo-Wills fight at Boyle's Thirty Acres last night was heard under unusually fine conditions in Danville and is generally described by radio fans today as the clearest picture of a ring battle from the ringside ever heard here. It is safe to say that several million people "tuned in" last night at nine o'clock to hear the description of the fight, the details of which were given by the announcer in a clear, concise and unobscured manner.

The arrival of the two fighters was announced and all of the preliminary arrangements, the voice of the official announcer could be heard quite clearly announcing the principals also the fact that the winner of the decision would be qualified to meet Dempsey. A wave of noise followed the introduction of the two fighters and Wills apparently was the favorite—at least the radio fans so judged from the comparison of sound between the two men. Even the clang of the gong could be heard by the radio fans and at times the strong voice of Referee Dan Sullivan warning Wills especially not to hit the prizefighter from the clinch.

Baby Tortured Day and Night by Eczema

Resinol Stopped Itching and Healed Sick Skin

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 10.—"I thought it might interest you to know how much Resinol has done for my baby. Her face was covered with scabs and the itching was so severe I had to keep stockings on her hands to keep her from scratching. I had to be up at night as it bothered her so she couldn't sleep. Two doctors, one of them a skin specialist, told me she had eczema. I tried several remedies, but nothing helped, so when I read in the paper about Resinol, I thought I would give it a trial. I can't praise it enough, for it has done wonders for the baby's skin and she sleeps all through the night now. I would advise anyone with a similar case to try Resinol Ointment." PRISON PITCHER SO GOOD OTHERS OFFER TO GO TO GALLOWS IN HIS STEAD

Three Convicts Volunteer Themselves to Be Hanged So That Doomed Star Player of Prison Team Might Stay On Club.

By L. C. OWEN
SAN RAPHAEL, Cal., Sept. 11.—The strange spectacle of three-hardened criminals volunteering to let themselves be hanged in order that the baseball team of their iron barred "Alma Mater" might acquire an unbeatable pitcher, is presented at San Quentin prison here.

The baseball pitcher, in whose stead they offer to suffer death is Clarence "Turk" Reid, 19-year-old former news boy of Los Angeles, gangster and convicted murderer. Two of the convict trio who are willing to go to the gallows in his stead are members of the prison baseball team, to which Reid is a recent recruit. The other is just a rabid convict fan, who, literally speaking, would rather give his life than see the "home team" beaten.

Reid, under sentence of death and less than two weeks ago snatched back from the hangman's noose by an eleventh hour court reprieve as the gallows was being made ready for him today is the pride of San Quentin. Were he not a felon with less than one chance in a thousand for his life, and none whatever for his liberty, it is probable the big league scouts would be interested in his pitching ability.

Twice within ten days now the condemned youth, with the shadow of death constantly lurking before his eyes, has pitched the prison team to sensational victory. In the first game, on Labor Day, against a strong nine from the Bank of California, San Francisco, he scored a one to nothing victory, striking out twelve batters and allowing but three hits. Again on Tuesday, in a prison game celebrating California's admission to the Union, he pitched his fellow convicts to a win over the fast McMichael Trust team of San Francisco, allowing five hits and striking out nine men.

The offer of his fellow convicts to substitute for Reid on the gallows, provided his life be spread for the prison baseball team, was made following Tuesday's game. A delegation of convicts sent word to the warden that they desired to present a "very important matter." When the warden responded, the spokesman of the convict committee told him in effect:

"Reid is the best pitcher San Quentin ever had. We can't afford to have him hanged. The prison wants a winning baseball team and is willing to pay to get it. So if you could fix it up with the governor to have somebody else take Reid's place, any one of three men is willing to go to the gallows in his stead."

Following the offer, which the warden said made in all sincerity, the three men who are willing to take the youthful pitcher's place on the scaffold stepped forward and personally vouched for their willingness to be his proxy.

Reid is under sentence of death for the murder of Charles Weinberger, an attempted hold up of a gambling house in Los Angeles a year ago last January. His defense was that he was under the influence of drugs at the time the murder was committed. Two weeks ago the presiding judge in the case, after the governor had refused to heed his recommendation for a reprieve until a new appeal could be made on the ground that new evidence had been found, personally helped to prepare papers which resulted in the state supreme court granting a temporary stay of the execution. At the time the court writ was granted, the time of the execution was less than twelve hours away.

A Victory Today Will Assure U. S. of Davis Cup

(By The Associated Press.)
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—With confidence born of two clear cut victories in the singles, the American Davis cup defenders meet their Australian challengers today in the only doubles match of the competition eager to hang up the third victory and thereby assure the retention in the United States of the famous trophy, symbol of international lawn tennis team supremacy, for another year.

William M. Johnston, of California, veteran of many Davis cup teams, will make his first appearance in this year's play today. Paired with William T. Tilden, national champion who yesterday conquered Gerald L. Patterson star, of the invading team in impressive fashion, he will meet Patterson and Pat O'Hara Wood, who bowed to the superior tennis of Virgil Richards, youthful New York, in the other singles match of the opening day's play.

The Australians admittedly are a strong team but the experts point to the winning record of Tilden and Johnston in Davis cup doubles competition and expressed confidence in their ability to defeat the challengers.

Polo Fours In Readiness For Games Tomorrow

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—After a series of disappointments which kept the international matches in the background for a week the polo fours of the United States and England are in readiness today for the first game of the series at Meadowbrook tomorrow afternoon.

Rain held up the entire counter since last Saturday but with the wet spell over, the two teams are on edge again for the opening conflict.

The series of postponements has favored the British team more than the American team as it is now reasonably sure that Luis Lacey, crack back and captain of the invading four, will be seen in the saddle in the opening clash. Lacey has been ill.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12.—The cotton market opened active and firmer with heavy trading during the call and immediately afterwards. First trades showed gains of 10 to 15 points and prices continued to advance after the call until October traded at 22.55, December at 22.65 and January at 22.73 or 27 to 28 points above the closing levels of yesterday. The brisk buying and covering were attributed to general and rather heavy rains in Texas and elsewhere in the west which are expected to damage somewhat the great amount of cotton open in the fields and temporarily slow down the movement to market.

DAVIS TO MAKE 3 TALKS TODAY

In Address Last Night, He Met Claims of Republicans

(By The Associated Press)
DENVER, Colo., Sept. 12.—John W. Davis, the Democratic presidential candidate, will resume today to conclude his campaign in Colorado with two platform speeches at Brighton and Greeley, en route to Cheyenne, Wyoming, where tonight he will deliver the third of his series of addresses scheduled for the west.
Speaking here last night to an audience which taxed the capacity of the municipal auditorium, Mr. Davis met the recent claims of the Republicans that his party is putting forward too many issues with the declaration that he would meet them on a single ground—the record of their administration of government in the past four years.
Assailing that record on the basis of isolation as a foreign policy, the leasing of the naval oil reserves, the tariff, the conduct of the veterans bureau and education and conservation, Mr. Davis said he was willing to "try the case on the Republican record alone."

(Special to The Bee)
MARTINSVILLE, Va., Sept. 12.—Stafford Whittle has written to the Washington authorities notifying them of the discovery near here of what appears to be an old Indian burial ground. The discovery is claiming the interest of many people in this section, the excavation having been already visited and many of the skulls, bones, beads and crude implements found in the earth have been claimed as personal mementoes.
The discovery was made several days ago when a force of men building a new road from Spencer, twenty miles here and about 100 miles due to a bank to secure sand clay to secure road surface. In addition to Mr. Whittle's notification of the authorities to send archologists into Henry county to make a personal survey of the premises which are being preserved, the Smithsonian institute will also be notified in the hope that something may be found which might be of value to the scientific world. The character of the graves have given rise to the belief that those buried there were Indians. Some who have viewed the skeletons have been impressed with their size and are speculating as to whether they are those of Indians or of other inhabitants of this section. Steps have been taken to prevent the carrying away of the remains and it is possible that further excavations will be made when archologists arrive.

MORNING SUGAR LETTER

(Courtesy Thomson and McKinnon)
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Refiners during the past few days have taken almost half a million bags of raws, an amount sufficient to cover the requirements for the balance of September. With beets due to come upon the market within a month, the advantage which the Cubans have enjoyed during the past month, will likely change. Refiners will have to re-enter the market for a week or possibly ten days and as orders keep increasing a slowly receding market appears inevitable. The difference between December and March at this time looks sufficiently attractive to justify the sale of December and purchase of March.

MORNING GRAIN LETTER

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Broomhall's last estimate of world's wheat crop showed that supplies were only 48,000,000 in excess of requirements and since then wet harvest in Europe suggests that her requirements for this season will be the foundation for the phenomenally large export business now doing. Just now every other item is subordinated to the foreign demand.

POTATOES

Minnesota sacked early Ohio 1.25@1.35; bulk round whites 1.40@1.45; Wisconsin bulk round whites 1.50@1.60; Nebraska sacked Irish cobbles 1.60@1.65; sacked early Ohio 1.45; Kansas and Missouri sacked Irish cobbles 1.30@1.40.

MORNING COTTON LETTER

(Thomson & McKinnon)
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The Liverpool market is again moderately higher than due. The explanation given is that bears are covering in consequence of less hedge selling. The spot market was better yesterday, sales were a little larger and prices about 25 points higher. The argument will now be reversed that because the market has had a big decline it should now be bought but the question is will the summer come into the market and buy freely. Until there is evidence of this we cannot expect anything more than occasional bulges as a result of speculative conditions.

Van Swearingens Have Made 25 Million In 9 Years

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—O. P. and M. J. Van Swearingens, of Cleveland, who in 1916 began backing their idea of railway consolidation with wide interest in real estate dealing had $2,000,000 in cash, have a potential profit of at least $25,000,000 according to estimates by railroad bankers and statisticians.
This rise in the fortunes, according to the experts, depends upon the successful culmination of the proposed merger of the Erie, Nickel Plate, Pere Marquette, Chesapeake and Ohio, and Rockford Valley lines. The board of directors of all these lines have recommended that stockholders ratify the merger, said to be the greatest in railway history.
The profits of the Van Swearingens, it was pointed out, are represented by their holdings in the various lines and the rise in stock values as a consequence of the mergers.
It was asserted that the fortune may be to much larger figures when the deal is completed or at the same time it would be considerably lower if the brothers attempted to convert their holdings into cash, due to the slump which would be caused by throwing so many securities upon the market.
The major portion of the Van Swearingens' fortune, about $13,000,000, said to have come from the Lake Erie State venture.

ROOSEVELT CABIN IN DAKOTA MAY BE HOUSED IN STONE

BISMARCK, N. D., Sept. 10.—The Roosevelt cabin, which was occupied by the old Maltese Ranch seven miles south of the village of Medora in the Little Missouri Bad Lands of North Dakota, is to be preserved in a fitting shrine according to the State Historical Society of North Dakota.
Lewis P. Crawford, curator of the society, is preparing plans for a stone shrine of stately and substantial design to be erected over the building. Assistance through popular subscription from every state is being considered. Mr. Crawford states, owing to requests from all sections for the shrine's establishment, the society has historical interest in North Dakota and the northwest. No other building in the state has traveled as much. It was taken from the Maltese Ranch, where it had stood for more than 20 years and shipped to the St. Louis Exposition in 1904. At the close of the exposition, the cabin was returned here and set up on the Capitol grounds.
The building is constructed of pine logs, cut on the upper waters of the Little Missouri in 1880-81.

MORNING STOCK LETTER.

(Thomson & McKinnon)
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Do you recall how many times the northwest-railroaders have been put into receivership during the past few years? It has been done so often that I have lost track of the number of times. Most any one of a destructive disposition can pick flaws at any time with a lot of the corporations whose stocks we deal in, but somehow or other the companies manage to get along and at intervals the wreckers get their share of trouble. At the present time they have a little advantage because they have the help of a lot of men who are prominent in public life and are broadcasting dangerous doctrines well calculated to destroy what our builders have created.
A little later on when we are sure what is going to happen on election day there will be an entirely different kind of a market. In the meantime, however, we will have to continue cautiously and I think that on the moderate bulges there will be offerings sufficient to check any important move.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Heavy trading in the oil shares featured the irregular opening of today's stock market. Southern Pacific and Dupont each opening 3-4 higher and Postum Cereal advanced to a new 1924 high but Houston Oil dropped at a point and slight recession also took place in some of the other oil and grangers.
The market presented a spotty appearance in the early trading. Gains of 1 to 2 points in Air Reduction, Norfolk and Western, Federal Mining and Smelting, preferred, Moon Motors, Union Tank Car and American Hide and Leather preferred were offset by losses of 1 to 2-1/2 points in United Fruit, American Ice, Baldwin, General Electric, Savage Arms and Utah Securities. Pivotal industrialists yielded fractionally from their initial highs but Mexican Seaboard Oil touched a new top at 24-1/4. Merchandising issues advanced moderately, selling of the oils apparently was based on the American Petroleum Institute's report of an increase in crude production.

NEW YORK COTTON.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Reports of rain in Texas and relatively steady Liverpool cables caused a good deal of covering and probably promoted fresh buying in the cotton market early today.
The opening was steady at an advance of 8 to 15 points. After irregularity due to the execution of overnight selling orders from the south, net higher. October advancing to active months sold 20 to 25 points 22.33 and December to 22.85.
There were numerous private reports of heavy rains in some parts of Texas which it was feared would damage the grade of open cotton. Liverpool said the steadiness there was due to a falling off in hedge selling and covering by shorts.
